Noi lived with his dad and six cats by the sea. It was summer and Noi was going to stay at Grandma's.

It was a long way to Grandma's house. She lived by herself on a tiny rock where the wind cut in and the grass grew sideways. The only visitors were the birds who blew in and out of the breeze.

Noi wasn't sure about Grandma. She boiled up seaweed for soup and kept her teeth in a jar. At night they had to sleep top to tail. The blankets were itchy and Grandma snored like an old walrus.

During the day, Grandma always seemed too busy with one thing...
