

NATIONAL WRITING DAY

BY Zara Cartmell

National Writing Day - 24 June 2020. National Writing Day is an annual celebration of the power of writing creatively, inspiring people of all ages and abilities to try writing for fun and self-expression.

All the things I love

By Zara

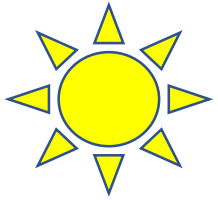

I love the summer when the sun is burning bright
But I also love the winter when the white frost is glistening on the ground
When Spring is here all the mother animals jump for joy after all the birthing is over Whilst the babies are having a nice nap on the hay of soft cushioning
But the thing I love most of all is my...

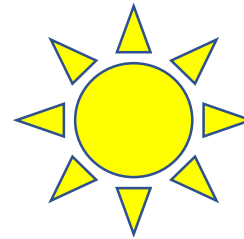

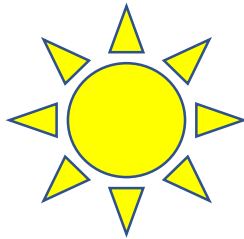

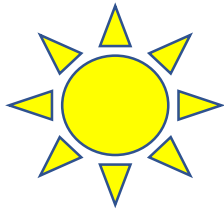

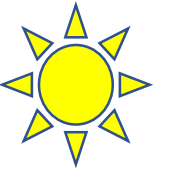

FAMILY

Now maybe you could do a challenge.

How about the 24 7 Challenge but it is different you have to write a story in 24 words in 7 minutes

Top tip: get to the point don't use fancy words
